Experience of the TTA Instructor Cadre

www.Training-Academy.org

Why is the TTA the Best?

- We are Experienced

The Tactical Training Academy brings over a hundred years of tactical training, development, and analysis experience as a cadre of instructors. Our instructor team includes the Incident Commander of the Marysville/Pilchuck school shooting, the Oso Landslide, and separate instructors who have been first responders and Incident Commanders at active emergency events nationwide. Several of our team members have worked full-time as risk and safety management officers for schools, as professional trainers on lethal and less-than-lethal use of force, as professional security assessors, and as commissioned responding officers. We have trained administrators and staff from over a hundred school districts, government agencies, hospitals, court houses, countless businesses, and international police agencies. The cadre of TTA instructors have been working together since 2011 and independently for many years prior.

- We are Law Enforcement and Emergency Management Trained Professionals

The Tactical Training Academy brings over fifty years of Commissioned Law Enforcement experience from State Police Officers. Our team is recognized as members of the International Law Enforcement Instructors cadre and has trained command-staff police officers across the globe. Our Master Instructor staff have credentials directly from the Department of Homeland Security in national compliance standards for rapidly expanding incidents. This combined training and knowledge of community safety, local resources, up-to-date technologies, and empowering presentation tactics puts us well above the competition.

- We have an extensive background in training

Our team has performed and perfected empowering training for a variety of staff, including first responders and civilian personnel. Life-saving training needs to be two things: applicable and empowering, reducing fear while facing the dangers of the world. Our team has perfected this strategy through onsite, interactive based training for all learning types. Its success has been proven by continued business relationships between all manner of clients: from government organizations to insurance pools to private corporations.

- We care about our community

All of the TTA instructors serve for one purpose: we care about our community. Many of our instructors have responded to violent active killer events. Many of our families and loved ones have been victims of violence. We have seen many schools, local businesses and community operations fall prey to emergency events and NOT be ready for it. The result has been catastrophic, including loss of life and damage to property. Consistently, more effective measures could have been in place to prevent and mitigate damage. The TTA brings you a team who will put their full attention, experience, and care on the safety and security of your site because we know what happens when that care is not provided.
